Eh, let's check the CSS maybe.

KSS Node

Node.js implementation of Knyle Style Sheets (KSS), "a documentation syntax for CSS" that's intended to have syntax readable by humans and machines. Hence, the kss-node software can be used to create a "living style guide".

1. Write human-readable documentation using "KSS syntax" comments.
2. Have the kss tool automatically build a style guide from your stylesheets.
